Monarch News

By Marilyn Cavicchia

Hello from the Monarch Special Interest Group! While I don't have the biggest news to share—which would be that we have seen monarchs here in Hyde Park—there is still a lot happening. We are continuing to meet on Zoom and have also added some in-person walks and other outdoor events. Our next Zoom meeting will be Thursday, June 17, at 3:00 p.m. Please email me for the link and also to get on the list for emails about in-person events: marilyn.cavicchia@gmail.com.

The purpose and location of our outdoor meetings will vary as the season progresses. To start, we're taking walks from the Hyde Park Neighborhood Club over to Dorchester and Blackstone. This gives group members a chance to see the HPNC Monarch Waystation and to learn how to identify two different plants, one good and one bad:

Milkweed and Black Swallow Wort.

LEFT, we have a few native varieties of milkweed, but the one we're most likely to see in areas where it hasn't deliberately been planted is common milkweed. Ours doesn't have flower buds yet, but this gives you a good idea of what the leaves look like. We plan to start writing in sidewalk chalk where we see some milkweed, so people will know what it is, & that it's good.

RIGHT, here's what black swallow wort looks like now. Eventually, it will grow small, purple flowers, followed by seed pods. We want to get the word out about it and encourage people to pull it up before it can make seeds. We are seeing a lot of it in certain locations throughout Hyde Park, especially on fences and twining around bushes. It's an invasive species from Europe, and one big reason it's a problem is that monarch butterflies lay eggs on it and the caterpillars eat it, but then they starve to death because it doesn't have what they need. We are currently making plans for how to communicate with others about it, in hopes that it will be removed. For now, the communication part will also involve some sidewalk chalk.

There have been monarch sightings elsewhere in and around Chicago and even as far north as Ontario, as you can see from this Journey North update: <https://journeynorth.org/monarchs/news/spring-2021/05192021-monarchs-migration-carries>.

Typically, I find eggs before I see the butterflies that laid them. I've been looking almost daily and hope to have more news soon!

May 13, 2021

Dear Members of the University of Chicago Service League,

Sara and I were so excited to have the opportunity to speak to the Service League this spring and for the welcome and enthusiasm you showed us.

I have known about the Service League for many years through friends in the community and the projects you have taken on, and I hold the Service League in great esteem. So it is a double thank you to let you know how much we appreciate the donation of $500 you have made to support the Refugee Project in addition to the invitation to speak.

Not long after we spoke with you, the Refugee Project held a strategic planning meeting to think about the direction we want to go in the coming 2-3 years. Knowing that we have such support as yours and such a welcoming community allowed us to think big about expanding the number of families we want to resettle each year and the infrastructure we need to build to make that happen.

I am so pleased to say that we aim to have the capacity to resettle three families a year by 2024. A family can be small, but it can also be quite large. The largest family we have worked with so far was a blended family of 16 from the Democratic Republic of Congo! So, while three doesn't sound like a big number it can mean anywhere from 15-45 people!

(LETTER CONTINUES ON NEXT PAGE)

Your gift will help support the work of our summer camp this July for refugee and immigrant children that are English language learners. This camp has been growing each year, and we expect 50 children to participate this year. In addition, 25 young adults, most of whom are high school and college students, will have an opportunity to gain work experience, understand the challenges facing refugees, and experience the joy of volunteerism over the course of the month as counselors and junior counselors.

This year we are also very excited to announce that we have hired an educator from St Thomas the Apostle to coordinate camp activities. One of the special features this year will be weekly visitors to do gardening and beekeeping! I wonder if Marilyn might be persuaded to come talk about Monarch butterflies!

I am also pleased to report that we have recently received two grants, one to help support the summer camp, and one to help with intensive English-language learning for a single mother so that she is able to find better jobs to help support her family.

I want to let you know how much we value your support and the work of the Service League in the community. Your long history and dedication to supporting the South Side are exactly the things we look up to. We hope one day to have such a long community history as the Service League. Once again, thank you for your generosity and for inviting us into your group to share our work. It was a great pleasure.

Warmest wishes,

Lisa

Dear Members of the Service League,

Thank you so much for your recent donation of $500 to the Kenwood Food Project. As you know, we were formed to support both restaurant workers in our community and to aid families needing food. We collaborate with five local restaurants and two grocers by raising funds to buy gift cards or certificates from those businesses. These purchases have helped them retain employees and the certificates have been distributed by The Lunch Ladies at Kenwood Academy, Principal Charlie Bright at Bret Harte School and volunteers with the Hyde Park Refugee Project. They have all reported overwhelming appreciation from the recipients they have reached. What a treat to not only receive a delicious meal but also to get the night off from cooking!

Your support has been essential. On April 23rd Block Club Chicago posted an article highlighting the fact that we have provided food for over 100 families in the past year. The online newspaper reported: "The project has been sustained by recurring givers and generous one-time donors, and it recently received a $500 grant from the University of Chicago Service League to buy 10 more gift cards." The news of our work plus the endorsement a gift such as yours adds to our record, inspired donations from 26 folks we had never heard from before. They included gifts from Evanston, Skokie, Oak Park and Chicago neighborhoods far from our own! Thank you for being a part of our support system and for being a good role model for others.

Dear Lesley and UCSL,

On behalf of the more than 3,000 people Chicago Commons serves, thank you for your donations during the past year totaling $5,500. We are so grateful for your incredible 126 years of support! Your gifts will help support our early childhood education, family-centered adult education and senior services programs.

Because of you, more families will have the opportunity to achieve their goals, like Aleli, a participant in Chicago Commons' Pathways for Parents program that provides parents the opportunity to attend college and find jobs in early childhood education:

"The classes have helped me become a better mother, and prepare to be a teacher. The most important thing to me is that my children see me do homework and work hard, and this shows them that if you work hard, you can get to your goal."

Thank you again for your support. We are grateful for longtime supporters like the UCSL who are determined to create lasting, generational change by investing in some of Chicago's most under-resourced, high-potential neighborhoods.

Sincerely,
